Dear Simon,

I would just like to drop you a few thoughts regards my experience with dealing with Finite Solutions. As you know we were delighted with the quality of service you provided and wanted to send you a quote that you can pass onto future customers thinking about doing business with you.

Throughout the entire install, from initial system concept & design, to install, and then to final commissioning, Finite Solutions were a great team to work with.

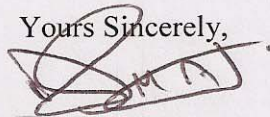

Always professional, always reliable, always neat & tidy showing great respect for the areas being worked on, and only being satisfied when I was completely satisfied with the final install.

Their product knowledge is second to none, as is their technical understand of what can be done and how it can best be achieved based on the budget available.

Their advice on what components work well together and also those that don't, as well as tirelessly sourcing components to audition on a trial basis, contributed enormously in delivering an installation I am absolutely delighted with.

Anyone considering a quality installation from a single room to a whole house should without doubt consider Finite Solutions. Their show house is definitely worth a visit, and has to be seen to be believed.

Yours Sincerely,

Smith
