Dear Sirs

Please accept this letter as a reference of the quality offered by the digital consultancy business Finite solutions. This young team undertook several projects for me on a domestic level and completed them to a particularly high standard at a commercial price, more importantly to a brief that was executed efficiently and to a high standard. The "lads" were most reliable, helpful and efficient in their working day, whilst most importantly being very respectful in respect of leaving the property tidy at the end of each working session. Their knowledge on digital equipment and installation was first class and I would have no hesitation in proposing that Finite Solutions should be a consideration for anybody looking to invest in the audio and/or visual communication sector.

Yours faithfully

 Tolman
